A call for genuine implementation of IMF programs

The insurance of no new tax amnesty scheme is a clear signal for the government, the fiscal regime in the country and is committed to adhering to the agreed-upon fiscal targets. This responsible approach is commendable and should serve as an example for future governments. It is imperative that Pakistan’s leaders resist political economies and pressures from various quarters that push the nation into compromising positions. The success of the ongoing IMF program will depend on strict fiscal discipline, comprehensive reforms, and unswerving commitment to the economic objectives. Pakistan has already completed several conditions for the next review, indicating progress towards economic stability. However, the road ahead is still challenging, and the government must remain resolute.

Hydabard journalists concerned over blackmailing of phone scammers

This issue is regarded as pressing public interest. These activities are causing real and visible distress and are untimely in a country that is struggling to regain its corpus. The authorities, including the Federal Investigation Agency (FIA) and the Punjab police, are using all possible avenues to catch those involved in such activities. Over recent months, several cases involving phone scammers have been filed under anti-terror laws in various cities and towns across the country.
